

This is in regards to "No Call" list rules under review at this time. I do not appreciate an invasion of my privacy. I do not want any calls with regards to anything no matter what the subject might be. I feel if I want information, I personally will seek it when it is convenient for me to do so. What happened to the "privacy act?" No to easing any type of restrictions of the no call list. Thank you